Document Advantage Chooses OpSource for Web Delivery of New Business Process and Electronic Document Management Application

DocuVantage OnDemand Provides Central Routing, Storage, and Sharing of Paper and Electronic Documents

SANTA CLARA, Calif. – March 6, 2007 – OpSource[™], the SaaS delivery experts, announced today that Document Advantage Corporation has chosen OpSource's Optimal On-DemandSM, an award winning, complete solution, designed specifically for software as a service (SaaS) delivery, for Document Advantage's new DocuVantage OnDemand[™] business process and electronic document management application.

DocuVantage OnDemand is a full featured, Web-based application that enables users to capture, create, revise, archive and retrieve documents and content, while sharing the content with or distributing it to others who need the information.

"We chose OpSource because it is the only complete turnkey provider for enablement and delivery of on-demand or SaaS applications," explained Jana Wiggins, president, Document Advantage Corporation. "In addition, OpSource has a proven track record of helping on-demand software providers market, enable and deliver successful applications to their clients."

“DocuVantage OnDemand enables companies to increase productivity by improving the handling and management of their documents and electronic content,” continued Wiggins. “Our application provides customers with a competitive advantage while reducing costs and maintaining regulatory compliance.”

OpSource CEO Treb Ryan said, “Document Advantage is making it possible for small and medium size businesses (SMBs) to very quickly and economically implement a system of storing paper and electronic documents in a way that makes the information instantly available to any employee who needs it. OpSource’s Optimal On-Demand is the only complete SaaS delivery solution available, making it perfect for applications such as DocuVantage OnDemand. In addition, our customer-focused success-based pricing model reduces risk and eliminates capital investment for Document Advantage. And, most importantly, as Document Advantage succeeds in the marketplace, so does OpSource.”

Optimal On-Demand is an award-winning Web application delivery platform for software companies, on-demand businesses and Web application developers. Optimal On-Demand includes everything necessary for Web application delivery, including hardware, software and systems infrastructure, application management and tuning, and 24x7 customer-branded end-user support. OpSource provides these services through a unique Success-Based Delivery Model which includes unit-based pricing. Unit-based pricing allows businesses to begin with a modest minimum commitment, and insures that ongoing increases in revenue will always precede future increases in service delivery cost.

OpSource has also pioneered on-demand service delivery acquisition with SaaSTRAK, the only online, interactive, expert system that recommends a “best practices” Optimal On-Demand infrastructure designed specifically for the customer’s application and business. Using SaaSTRAK, OpSource customers, by answering business and technical questions regarding their proposed service, can view and purchase, on-line, a recommended on-demand service delivery solution and begin using it in 72 hours or less. All customers who use SaaSTRAK receive a no-strings-attached one month free trial of Optimal On-Demand.
