About the Presenter

Lonnie Wills

Vice President, Global Services, Astadia Consulting, LLC

Lonnie Wills is the Vice President of Global Services at Astadia Consulting, LLC, responsible for managing over 2000 SaaS implementations. He also consults with executives on how to harness the power of Salesforce.com and enabling SaaS to the desktop. Mr. Wills is a seasoned IT Veteran with over 20 years of experience in IT consulting and management. Previously to Astadia, Mr. Wills served as CIO of BakBone Software where he implemented Salesforce.com and leveraged Salesforce.com as a platform to consolidate over 15 applications to reduce the cost of maintaining the application Silo. Prior to BakBone Software Mr. Wills launched a Business Intelligence Software company in 1999 called e-botz, which was based on "Bot Technology" with products like Network Query Language "NQL" and "Content Anywhere" which he later sold in 2003. Prior to e-botz, Mr. Wills was a manager and senior consultant at IBM where he managed a large consulting group for Global Services on the West Coast.

In 2006 Mr. Wills was the recipient of the Wizkids Award for his successful and innovative implementation of Salesforce.com at Bakbone Software Inc.
